

Name: _____ Section: _____

Find someone who...

Can tell you how a constant is different from a control group in an experiment

Can describe the difference between independent and dependent variables

Can give you an example of a hypothesis.

Can define a constant

Can explain why a control group is used in an experiment

Can list the two types of data.

1.

2.

Can explain what a control is

Students must initial the answer they give you after you write it down.